Who we are

- We are a small United Kingdom based consultancy
- I am Joel Rosi-Schwartz and I founded Etish in 1993
- We have been involved with Eclipse since 2001
- We specialise in the development of commercial quality Eclipse applications
- We have a long history of consulting for clients of various sizes, from large enterprises to small start-ups, both on software projects and on development process improvement

Why Join?

* We have always believed in and been part of the open source software movement. Over the years, we have been making small contributions to the open source software community through code contributions to various open tools

* We developed a GUI front end for the XML database Xindice as an Eclipse plug-in, which we donated to the Apache Foundation

* More recently we have undertaken the development of an open requirements management tool Useme

* So joining the foundation and proposing the ORMF project is our way of giving something back to the community that has provided us with so much
